

April 14th, 11am - 3pm EST 2022

The University of Florida's Mini-
Symposia Series:

AI and Interactions with Society

An inclusive and diverse society convening with maker demos, lightning talks, and workshops for academics in diverse fields engaging with Artificial Intelligence.

Join us for a discussion of AI and its users in diverse cultural, social, and scientific areas. How do people, communities and AI interact?

Hybrid event: at the Reitz Union, Auditorium, at the University of Florida, and Live streamed on Zoom.

Organized by Amelia Winger-Bearskin with the UF Informatics Institute.

Registration Link

Schedule

download the program as a PDF

11 am - Interactive
Welcome workshop

11:30 am - Lightning Talks from AI Makers
- Auditorium

Heidi Boisvert - The Ethics of Button Pushing: Using Biometrics & AI for Media
Effects Research

Fatimah Tuggar -Fractal Morphogenesis: Unified Branches & Subdivisions

Brendan David John - AI for Human-Computer Interaction & Implications of Personalization on Privacy

Lauri M. Baker - Consumer 's Perceptions of Artificial Intelligence in the Food System

Tina Tallon - From AM to AI: Mediating the Human Voice

12:30 - 1:30 pm - Free Lunch and student demos room 2335

1:30 pm - 3pm

AI Workshops room 2330

AR in public health interactions - Ines Said, Austin Stanbury, and Erica Del Hagen

The rhetoric of AI - Eamon O'Connor

AI-driven motion and dance analysis - Angelos Barmpoutis

Lightning Talks - Auditorium

Qudus Onikeku - AI, Deep learning and the future of appropriation.

Jack Stenner - AI and theming as vernacular electracy

Kiley Graim - Machine learning methods for analyzing genomic data to predict disease outcomes.

Amy Stein- Introduction to Artificial Intelligence and the Law

Imani Mosley -Is Your Taste Really Yours? Spotify, Algorithms, and Musical Choice

Ray Huffaker - Trusting the Actionable Recommendations of AI Systems.

Serena Jingchuan Guo - Addressing Bias and Fairness in AI & Machine Learning

3 pm - Topic Round-up & Goodbye

Register for the Symposium

Location

The University of Florida

Reitz Union Drive
Gainesville, FL 32603

go to the orange elevators and upon exiting turn right to the Auditorium, for the workshop (2330) and lunch (2335) go straight from the elevator and turn left at the ballroom.

Hours

April 14th

11am - 3pm

[Register for free
now](#)

Digital Worlds Institute

The University of Florida's Digital Worlds Institute is on the cutting edge of digital arts and sciences — both in our research initiatives and innovative approach to education. We are a recognized leader in combining arts, communications, engineering, and science, with a focus on advanced media systems.

Facebook Twitter Instagram